ROLL CALL

Chairman Williams asked County Clerk Gray to call the roll. There were 22 Present – 6 Absent. Mr. Bunch, Annette Fulgenzi, Mr. McGuire, Mr. Snell, Mr. Tjelmeland, and Mr. Van Meter were all excused.

APPOINTMENT OF NEW COUNTY BOARD MEMBER, DISTRICT #2

GREG CHRISTIAN – BEYOND GREEN

Founder and CEO of Beyond Green Greg Christian gave a slideshow presentation regarding Beyond Green-sustainable food partners. They want to make Sangamon County more farm to table than it is today. He splits his time between Springfield and Chicago. Half of his time, he consults around the country, most recently in Logan County. He works with large institutions such as schools, hospitals, and restaurants to head towards more fresh and local food. He also has a business in Chicago that makes 5,000 pre-school meals per day, and that is kind of their learning laboratory. It has been a local, hyper organic, zero waste business for 15 years. It is where they practice and bring food into large institutions. They are talking about a more localized food system in Sangamon County. They bring them in to help drive local food, and the one thing that has to happen is you need kitchen efficiencies so kitchens can sometimes afford the more expensive food. It would be a good idea to start with just an assessment to see what local foods are being bought and farmed in Sangamon County, and to find out if there is interest from farmers, larger institutions, restaurants, fast casual places, and hospitals. They want to see if anyone is interested in growing, raising and buying this food. During the first eight weeks, they would be heading out into the community with surveys, having face-to-face meetings with the farm bureaus, hospitals, restaurants, and school purchasers to see how much fresh and local food they buy now and if they could grow and buy more. Phase 1 will take about eight weeks. They are looking for barriers and possible stakeholders and are looking to see what others have to say about this. They would then deliver a report letting them know if people are interested or not and what the next steps would be.

They have built pipelines around the country for larger institutions. Logan County's hospital asked them to come in and partner with the grammar schools to bring their food from mostly processed food to more fresh local food. In Logan County, the CEO of the hospital realized that county is the second most obese county in Illinois, and he had been working with the adults over the years and was not making the progress he wanted to make. They met with the Farm Bureau there and asked them to supply them with some local farmers where they could buy their meat and produce. Initially, he did not know anyone, but they went out and found farmers, and now that school district is buying over $100,000 worth of local food per year, and they are cost neutral. This means whatever their budget was, it is still the same because they have taught the kitchen efficiencies. They would love introductions to farmers, any restaurants, hotels, and schools. David Mendenhall has already agreed to help open some doors.

Mr. Hall stated he was a dairy farmer for 28 years. He asked if they have any plans on having dairy products. He asked if they have any contracts or commitments or if they would be interested in anything like that because he has empty barns. Mr. Christian stated he thinks the County is interested, and he realized bringing back "community food web" is a thing and it is not going to happen overnight. It will take some people taking some risks. If they can get some of the grocery chains, they could get distributors that are interested. He did not want to get ahead of himself. Mr. Hall stated he is in.

Mr. DelGiorno asked what the kitchen efficiencies entail. Mr. Christian explained that it is important to weigh food waste. There is all this waste that is not weighed in kitchens in America. When you start weighing food and beverage waste everywhere the money appears to then stop the food waste and give it to local farmers. It is not rocket science, but it is just not happening in this country anywhere.

PROCLAMATIONS

Linda Fulgenzi presented a Proclamation to Brad Mills recognizing his many years of service on the Sangamon County Community Resources Advisory Council. They recognized the significant contributions he has made to the lives of Sangamon County residents, and wished him the best and continued success in future endeavors. Mr. Mills thanked the County Board, staff, and Community Resources who have worked with him for the past 17 years while serving the people of Sangamon County.
